

The Write Stuff

Teen Writing & Visual Arts Contest

An Affiliate of the
CANCER SUPPORT COMMUNITY

Because every story deserves to be told.

Your story. Your voice.

Share with us how cancer has touched your life – in your own words, artwork or video – with your personal reflections and original insights.

JUDGED CATEGORIES INCLUDE

- Essays written by middle school student survivors and youth living with cancer
- Essays written by high school student survivors and youth living with cancer
- Essays written by middle school students connected to cancer
- Essays written by high school students connected to cancer
- Poems written by middle and high school students with any cancer connection
- 2-D art created by middle and high school students with any cancer connection
- Videos created by middle and high school students with any cancer connection

REQUIREMENTS

- Open to students in grades 6-12 who have a cancer connection
- Must be a resident of Kentucky or Southern Indiana
- Parent/Guardian consent to participate
- One entry per student – essay, poem, artwork or video
- Enter by going to gck.org and clicking on Write Stuff Contest.
 - STEP ONE: Complete the online application
 - STEP TWO: Submit entry
- ENTRIES MUST BE RECEIVED BY MIDNIGHT EST, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 15, 2022.

Cash prizes up to $500 for winning entries.

For info, visit gck.org or email dzifa@gck.org with "Write Stuff" as the subject.

2440 Grinstead Drive | Louisville, KY 40204 | (502) 583-0075 | gck.org
1720 W. Broadway, Suite 205, | Louisville, KY 40203

